

I use a small, local ISP that provides telephone access to the internet from all over New England. Furthermore, I use a small, local phone company for my local and long-distance telephone needs. I am quite happy with both relationships but fear this proposed re-classification will eliminate both of these relationships. Chairman Powell: Please do not sell out to BIG BUSINESS, at the expense of competition and the small businesses of our country